Senior Class Report

The senior class held its first meeting on September 13, 1951, for the purpose of electing class officers. Those elected were as follows: President, Jackie Cutliffe; Vice-President, Alfred Webster; Secretary, Reta Ogden; Treasurer, Rita Thibodeau. Representatives to the Student Council were Jean Archambaud and George Brissette. Members of the Welfare Committee were Mary Thompson, Elaine Thompson, Jackie Abbott, and Fred Dow.

The senior class was well represented in sports, clubs, and other school activities, especially in varsity basketball, where Jackie Cutliffe, Richard Carlow, Fred Loring, Martin Grant, Edward Taylor, and Donald Tait played an extremely important part.

The senior play, "Who's Batty Now?" was presented on November 2 at the Helen Hunt Auditorium.

Plans for our annual Senior Hop are now in progress, and the following committees have been set up:

Business: Fred Dow, chairman, Frances Martin, and Eleanor Dow.

Decoration: Elaine Brown, chairman, Linwood Randall, Jean Archambaud, Reta Ogden, and Francis Richard.

Reception: Marilyn Stubbs, chairman, Gladys Thibodeau, Rita Thibodeau, Mildred Jordan, Elizabeth Arsenault, and Jessie Sargent.

Refreshment: Delores Smith, chairman, Joanne Stormann, Eleanor Read, Jeannette Stevens, and Constance Veilleux.

Service: Alfred Webster, chairman, Frank Bertrand, Richard Boucher, Jackie Abbott, Martin Grant, and Richard Carlow.

Graduation committee chairmen are as follows:

Senior Assembly: Richard Chadbourne and Richard Fayle.

Baccalaureate: Robert Marsh.

Class Night: Rita Thibodeau.

Senior Banquet: Elizabeth Arsenault.

Graduation Night: Patricia Hopkins.

The class elected the following students to deliver class parts at the class night and graduation exercises: Class History, Reta Ogden; Class Prophecy, Jacqueline Parent; Class Will, Jackie Abbott; Gifts to Girls, Kenneth Duplissa; Gifts to Boys, Eleanor Dow; Honor Essays, Jean Archambaud, Jackie Cutliffe, Fred Dow, and Jessie Sargent.

We, the senior class of 1952, wish to thank our class advisers, Mrs. Robert Poulin and Mr. Clarence Spearin, for their guidance throughout the year. They have helped to make our last year at Old Town High School a happy and successful one.

RETA OGDEN, Secretary

If low in spirits you should feel,
To recuperate real speedy
Just look at Betty's dazzling smile,
It's a "cure-all" — yes indeedy!

ROBERT ERWIN BEAULIEU

College Course

Glee Club 1, 2; French Club 2, 3; Dirigo Boys' State Rep.

If you're ever in a classroom,
And you hear a real high shriek,
You'll know that Bobbie played some joke,
He's sure a teasing sheik.

FREDERICK NICKLESS BAGLEY

General Course

Transferred from Freedom Academy, Freedom, Me.; F. F. A. Basketball 1; Varsity Basketball 1, 2, 3; Varsity Baseball 1 2, 3; Junior Class Play; Intramural Basketball 4.

He hasn't been here very long
But that matters not a bit,
'Cause it doesn't take Fred very long
To make a great big hit.

FRANK DALE BERTRAND

Commercial Course

Orchestra 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Cross Country Mgr. 2, 3; Band 1, 2, 3; Jr. O. A. T.; Senior Hop Comm.

He's known as Dale to all his friends,
And many friends has he,
We classmates are among them,
We hope we'll always be.

HAZEN ALBERT BAGLEY

General Course

Transferred from Freedom Academy, Freedom, Me.; F. F. A. Basketball 1; Varsity Basketball 1, 2, 3; Varsity Baseball 1 Junior Speaking Exhibition; Intramural Basketball 4.

Everybody calls him Red
And we all know just why,
And here's another thing we know—
He sure is one swell guy.

NANETTE JOYCE BLANCHARD

Commercial Course

Glee Club 1, 3, 4; F. H. A. 2, 3, 4; Dramatics Club 2, 3, 4, Program Chairman 4; Softball 2; Jr. O. A. T.; Junior Prom Comm.; One-Act Plays Comm. 3, 4; Senior Play Comm.; Honors.

She bounces here, she bounces there,
Oh that Nanette, she's everywhere,
Good natured and so full of fun,
And she is liked by everyone.

CLARENCE ALPHIE BARRIAULT

Agriculture Course

J. V. Basketball 2, 3; Varsity Football 4; F. F. A. 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club 4.

He seems to make no noise at all,
And usually he's real quiet,
But you should hear him sometimes,
He's really quite a riot.

RICHARD JAMES BOUCHER

General Course

Intramural Basketball 2, 4; Football 3; F. F. A. 2; Senior Hop Comm.

We know he doesn't make much noise,
He's as quiet as the mice,
But on one thing we all agree,
That Dick is really nice.

The best of luck to you in your senior year

JOANNE BOYNTON

Home Economics Course

F. H. A. 2.

She has dark hair and freckles,
And her sparkling eyes are blue,
She always is a lot of fun,
We like Joanne, don't you?

RUTH MADELINE BROOKS

Commercial Course

Basketball 2; Cheerleading 1, 2, 3; F. H. A. 2; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4, Treas. 3; Jr. O. G. A.; Jr. O. A. T.; Sachem Staff Sec. 4; Shorthand 80; Sr. O. A. T.; Softball 2, 3, 4; Typing 50; Junior Prom Comm.; Honors.

Ruthie may seem quiet
But she's really loads of fun,
And in her work she'll never shirk
Until the job is done.

ALDEN WHITTIER BRADBURY, JR.

General Course

Biology Club 2; Intramural Basketball 1, 2; Cross Country 2, 3; Dramatics Club 1; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 2, 3; Varsity Club 2, 3, 4; Indian Skit 2, 3, 4.

Aggie has much talent
As an artist, and someday
We think that he'll be famous,
May fortune come his way.

I hope you have as good a time your senior year as I did. Best of luck Brad

ELAINE FRANCES BROWN

College Course

Cheerleading 2, 3, 4; Chemistry-Physics Club 3, 4, Pres. 4; French Club 2; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4, Pres. 4; Boys' Glee Club, Accompanist 3, 4; Sachem Staff 3, 4; Typing 40; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Junior Prom Comm.; Senior Hop Comm., Chairman; High Honors.

Now here's someone who's full of fun,
She's cheerful, gay, and happy,
And with her on the cheering squad
The cheers were smart and snappy.

Best of luck to a future pete

GEORGE MICHAEL BRISSETTE

General Course

Football 2, 3, 4, Co-Capt. 4; Basketball 2, 3; Track 1, 2, 3; Intramural Basketball 2, 3; Student Council 3, 4; Varsity Club 3, 4, Pres. 4.

Pete isn't much on height, we know,
But he's really on the beam,
And he sure deserves some credit
For our winning football team.

PAUL JOSEPH BUCHANAN

Commercial Course

Intramural Basketball 2; Baseball 2, 3, 4; Football 1, 2, 3, 4, Co-Capt. 4; Jr. O. A. T.; Sr. O. A. T.; Typing 40; Varsity Club 2, 3, 4; Indian Skit 2.

Always laughing, always gay,
We hope he'll always be that way,
Truly a sport and full of reason,
We found that out in football season.

JOYCE ANN BROCHU

College Course

Basketball 2; Chemistry-Physics Club 3, 4, Treas. 4; Junior Speaking Exhibition; Sachem Staff 4; Senior Play Comm.; Softball 3; Typing 40; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4, Concert Mistress 4; High Honors; Magazine Sales Campaign Winner 2.

Joyce Ann, active in everything,
Loves to dance and also sing,
We know that she has talents many,
And as for faults she hasn't any.

HERBERT EDWARD BUCK

General Course

J. V. Basketball 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Intramural Basketball 2, 4; Football 1, 2; Track 2, 3, 4; Cross Country 4; Varsity Club 3, 4.

Herbert closely follows Cox
In making Navy plans,
If all his wishes are fulfilled
He'll visit foreign lands.

RICHARD LEON CARLOW

College Course

Varsity Basketball 2, 3, 4, Capt. 4; Baseball 2, 3, 4; Football 3, 4; French Club 2; Varsity Club 3, 4; Senior Hop Comm.

Most valuable in basketball
Most modest in his way,
Most pleasant just to have around
The schoolhouse every day.

MARY ANN CONNORS

College Course

Chemistry-Physics Club 4; Honors.

Soft of voice
And heart of gold,
Hers is a friendship
We'll want to hold.

WESLEY GEORGE CARR

He always has a smile for us
Wherever he may go,
With Wes around to tell the jokes
The time just can't go slow.

CHARLES ANTHONY COX

General Course

Track 4.

He wants to be a Navy man,
Of that we have no doubt,
His sailor days will start for him
As soon as school lets out.

WILLIAM LONG CARR

General Course

F. F. A. Basketball 2; F. F. A. 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 4.

Bill likes to have a lot of fun,
At joking he is fine,
And when it comes to working
He always finds the time.

Figuratively she sparkles,
Literally she's tops,
Whatever it is that makes her nice
We hope it never stops.

RICHARD FRANKLIN CHADBOURNE

General Course

Transferred from Orono High School, Orono, Me.; Intramural Basketball 4; J. V. Basketball 1, 2, 3; Cross Country 2, 4; Dramatics Club 4; State Play 4; Senior Play Cast; Track 2, 4, Mgr. 2; Varsity Club 4; Class Play 2; Classroom of the Air 2; Winter Carnival 1, 2.

Chady is so friendly
To everyone he knows,
He spreads good cheer, both far and near,
No matter where he goes.

Best Luck
Jean '52

WILLIAM HENRY CURRAN

General Course

Football 2; Intramural Basketball 2, 4.

Bill just loves to tease the girls
And make them do his bidding,
Though sometimes they put up a fuss,
They know that he's just kidding.

Wi aya Jean,
How's tricks?
Best luck in your
Senior year at O.T.H.S
Chady

Best of luck to you always. Have fun this year as a senior.

She surely rates in cheering
And she won the D. A. R.,
With these and other accomplishments
In life she'll travel far.

WILLIAM JOSEPH DAMBOISE, JR.

General Course

F. F. A. 2, 3, 4; Track 4.

We aim to keep his friendship,
That's what we all desire,
His splendid personality
Folks surely do admire.

Freddy's rank is excellent,
He's good in public speaking.
We know with Freddy's brilliant mind
He'll find the things he's seeking.

ROBERT ANTHONY DAY

General Course

Intramural Basketball 2, 4.

We have to look a-way up high
When we see Bobbie passing by,
But stretching sure is worth your while
When your reward is his bright smile.

We know that Kenny's pastime
Is reading sports reviews,
If anything you want to know
Just go to Ken for news.

JOSEPH ALPHONSE DOUCETTE

General Course

Nothing ever bothers Joe,
He always takes things pretty slow,
His easy manner and pleasant way
Bring him happiness every day.

Junior Class Report

The junior class had its first meeting of the year on September 17, 1951, for the purpose of electing class officers. They were as follows: President, Richard Martin; Vice-President, Harold White; Secretary, Peggy Beek; and Treasurer, Elizabeth Thibodeau. The Student Council representatives from the class were Janet Smith and Russell Godin.

Members from the class to serve as chairmen for the Junior Prom, which is to be held on May 9, were Russell Godin, Janet Smith, Gail LaPlante, Mary Ellen St. John, Elden Carroll, and Bryan Buchanan. Other members of the class were appointed to help on the various committees.

The eight juniors who participated in the Junior Speaking Exhibition were Jeannine Couillard, Lorraine Dolan, Mary Ellen St. John, Elizabeth Thibodeau, William Girouard, Kenneth LaFlamme, Bert Lemieux, and Donald Marsh. Mary Ellen St. John also won the honor of representing our school in the regional preliminaries of the Spear Speaking Contest, being selected by the judges as an alternate to the final contest in May.

Robert Thibodeau was the only one from our class who was in the state play cast, although Donald Marsh was in the chorus for the state play.

Many juniors played a part in sports and other school activities. Those representing the class on the football squad were Walter Beaulieu, Russell Godin, Bryan Buchanan, Lester Pettis, Ronald Blair, James LaGasse, Donald Gero, Elden Carroll, Arthur Morin, Earle Pelletier, Robert Thibodeau, and Franklin Geroux.

Russell Godin, Harold White, and Robert and Ralph LaPlante served on the varsity basketball team, and Walter Beaulieu, Ronald Blair, James LaGasse, Richard Martin, Sharland Sucy, Leonard St. Pierre, Richard Sullivan, and Elden Carroll served on the junior varsity team. Harland Cust was manager of the junior varsity team for the year.

Many boys are expected to turn out for baseball and track, and many girls are expected to report for softball during the season.

Virginia Lavoie and Sharon Leavitt did an outstanding job on the varsity debate team during the season. Janice Davis was the alternate for the team.

Representing the class as cheerleaders this year were Rozanne Kinkow, Mary Ellen St. John, and Priscilla St. Louis.

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to our class advisers, Miss Margaret Mollison and Mr. Howard Blasenak, for their help. They have made our junior year a happy and successful one.

Sophomore Class Report

The sophomore class, with an enrollment of 157 students, met on December 4, 1951, to elect class officers. They were as follows: President, Gene Guerin; Vice-President, Maurice Martin; Secretary, Barbara Kelley; Treasurer, Audrey Russell. We had had a previous meeting at which Sandra Burke and Sanford Podolsky were elected to the Student Council. Members appointed to the Welfare Committee were Lois Babkirk, Maurice Martin, David Spruce, Ralph Thomas, Jean Welch, Carlista Winter, and Francis Riva, chairman.

We began the year with three days of initiation, climaxed by the Sophomore Reception.

Many students participated in the various school clubs, Sandra Burke being secretary of the French Club. In the F. H. A. Shirley Robbins won the county prize for the best essay on Electric Utilities, and Lorraine King was elected to represent the school as a candidate for nomination for election to the state F. H. A. Sanford Podolsky was chosen to represent the school in the Spear Speaking Contest. Carole May Beaulieu, Sanford Podolsky, and Charles Thibodeau took part in the state play.

The sophomore class was well represented in all sports. Those on the football squad were Richard Geroux, Gene Guerin, Donald King, Arthur Miles, Richard Haskell, Carl Martin, Maurice Martin, Kenneth Spinney, and Leonard Smith. Robert Stanley was a student assistant.

Richard Geroux and Gene Guerin were on the varsity basketball team. Sophomore members on the junior varsity team were Louis Cloutier, Richard Haskell, Donald King, Carl Morin, Arthur Miles, Sanford Podolsky, and Kenneth Spinney. In cross-country were Ronald Gilbert, Robert Theriault, and Ralph Thomas on the varsity team, and Charles Brangwynne, William Ouellette, Orman Davis, Sanford Podolsky, Francis Riva, and Roy Thurston, sophomore manager, on the junior varsity.

Nancy Babin, Sandra Burke, Betty Buzzell, and Jean Sawyer represented the class as cheerleaders.

We wish to express our thanks to our class advisers, Miss Hester Carter and Mr. Thomas Viola, for their willing help throughout the year.

THE ILLUSION

Slowly the golden sun faded behind the black clouds. Twilight had again settled over the village. Down the winding road a stranger sauntered leisurely, but with a steady pace, toward the sleepy place of refuge that lay stretched before him.

The town seemed still and peaceful to him, but then he remembered that it had always been like that before his journey away. Now he had returned. "Would it be the same as when he had once lived there?" he kept asking himself.

At last he came to the sign that welcomed weary travelers to the friendly village. He looked at it for a few minutes and then started to walk through the village. A steep mountainside lay at the end of the village, and he began the hard task of climbing it in order to reach the little white cottage which was waiting for his return, and inside of which Mecia and Toni would be saying the rosary in the evening twilight.

Finally he stood before the door and as he lifted the latch, a cry broke forth and filled the village with an echo. "Andre! Oh, Andre!"

"Andre? Andre? Andre? Andre?" a voice questioned.

Wearily, Andre lifted his head as if he had been asleep.

"Andre, is there anything you wish before the time?" the padre asked.

"Oh, Father, why must I be in this prison awaiting death?" Andre asked with humble pleading. "Why am I not with Mecia and Toni, as I was, or was it just an illusion that I was back with them?"

"Andre, if you were with them, then God forgives you, and through your visit with Mecia and Toni he has shown his forgiveness."

"I am ready now, padre."

"Then may God bless you, Andre; may God bless you!"

Slowly Andre walked to the execution chamber, but in his heart he walked through the door of his little white cottage on the mountainside and into the arms of Mecia and Toni, never to leave them again.

NIGHT

I used to sleep on my side,
Curled up
Like a little round kitten,
And sometimes
I was stretched long and comfortable,
But now I lie
With my eyes wide open,
Piercing the darkness like burning coals,
And my ears are strained to every sound,
But I hear nothing,
There is nothing to hear.

I am alone in the darkness,
Alone and terrified
Of the black substance

Which surrounds me
And the grotesque shadows hiding there within.

Where is the drowsiness
Which makes all troubles end?
Where is the sleep?
Why won't it come?

I dread the nights,
The awful, dark, friendless nights
That now mean
Nothing but fear and panic to me.

THE PURPLE HAT

'Twas Friday and bargain basement day,
So into the store I made my way
To the hat counter first, for Easter was soon;
Maybe elegant purple, with an ostrich plume.

I dug and I poked and I plowed my way through
Some little straw hats of about every hue,
A red and a green, an orange and brown,
But no purple hat anywhere to be found.

"Perhaps the next counter," the saleslady said,
And to her suggestion I nodded my head;
I saw pillboxes, derbys, flowers, and veils,
And some hats resembling miniature pails.

I then spied a purple, a princess's delight,
The pill to assuage the pains of the fight;
I grabbed up the hat, paid the bill to the clerk,
And tried to get out with one big jerk.

But in my flight I neglected to see
The woman who stood a short distance from me,
My next door neighbor with her years-ago find,
An old purple hat, the twin sister to mine.

TRIBUTE TO THE SENIORS

The seniors are a jolly class,
They never seem to fight,
But that's because they're going soon
And want their name kept right.

They want the faculty to think
The senior class is best,
But we, the underclassmen, know
They sometimes are a pest.

And yet we hate to see them go,
We think that class is swell,
And when commencement rolls around
We'll sigh a sad farewell.

THE FIRST FIVE

First comes Captain Carlow,
Bursting through the hoop,
Then comes Jackie Cutliffe,
The fellow with the scoop,
Third comes Grant, the shortest,
Next is Loring, tall,
Fifth comes Tubby Taylor,
The set shot of them all.
We now have Johnny Barker,
Coach of the champion team,
He's the one who aimed to put
Our Indians on the beam.
The season of 1952
Was just the best one yet,
The first five is a team that we Shall never, never forget.

THE BELLE OF THE BALL

The orchestra played on and on,
The tune was really snappy;
The girls all wore their broadest smiles
And managed to look happy,
But down inside they seethed with ire,
Yet without an outward noise,
And wondered, "Who's the Jezebel
Who has captured all the boys?"

For hours they'd waited eagerly
And looked forward to the ball,
Not dreaming that this wench would keep
Them sitting 'gainst the wall.
As she danced by, she'd wink her eye
And the stags would wait their turn,
And all the while the girls would smile,
But inside, how they'd burn!

TAKING PIANO LESSONS

When I first started taking piano lessons, I was confronted with one great problem, the one concerning practicing. My mother insisted that I practice one hour a day, because Mrs. Smith's daughter practiced one hour daily. Unfortunately for me, Mrs. Smith's daughter was a beautiful player. I argued this point of practicing, but as can well be imagined, my mother won out.

Then I started practicing, keeping one eye on the clock, watching the seconds drag by. Oh, why didn't that note sound well? I guess the piano must be out of tune. Now that is the right note, isn't it? Do I hold this note one beat or two beats? Oh, well, I can't see what difference it makes. Thus my practicing continued; and I thought I was coming along quite well until my father, who was reading the paper, suggested that maybe just for today, I could do a half-hour's practicing instead of the designated hour's time. He'd be at work the next day. My mother was quite eager to consent. I can't imagine why; anyway, I was relieved. Thus my practicing continued until it was time to take my first lesson.

That lesson I shall never forget. I went in thinking I was a dumbell. I came out knowing it. It was the longest hour I have ever spent in my whole life. Everything I did was wrong. I can still hear my music teacher's voice saying, "No, that gets three beats." "You sharp that note, not flat it." "You're using the wrong fingers." Occasionally she would give a little encouragement with, "That's better," but when I looked, I knew she felt nothing but discouragement. Her face was a mass of sweat and all screwed up in a knot. When she finally told me the lesson was over, I heard the first sweet-sounding music I have heard in days. She told me to have a little patience, and some day playing the piano would come naturally. I wasn't so worried about my patience as I was about hers. She looked a wreck, and she certainly couldn't stand many more lessons. My first attempt at a musical career had been a complete failure.

UNIVERSE

In days to come, great men are saying,
  Among the stars we will be playing;
If what they speak is really true,
  Soon we shall sail through heavens blue.

Every planet, every star
  Will then be near, though now 'tis far.
They say that rockets, very soon,
  Will enable us to reach the moon.

If all of this is really so,
  Many secrets we shall know.

BERT LEMIEUX '53

MY MOTHER

Her voice is soft, her eyes are blue,
  She's always kind and ever true;
I love her more than any other,
  Of course you know I mean my mother.

CHARLES PETTIS '52

THE CLOCK

The clock upon the mantelpiece
  Is pretty as can be,
The same old tick-tock and the chimes
  That never tire me.

When I'm at home all by myself
  I never feel alone,
I know that I have company
  Should sad winds start to moan.

It's something I look forward to,
  That pleasant ticking sound,
If suddenly the ticking stops
  I start to look around.

I can't express myself too well;
  Here's what I mean to say:
We never miss the little things
  Until they've gone away.

THE LATE BUS

When I was waiting for the bus
To take me to the show,
The temperature dropped ten degrees
And it began to snow.

I stamped my feet there in the cold,
I clapped my palms together,
I even said some "naughty words"
About the lousy weather.

Millions of cars kept passing by,
Did any of them stop?
I stood there slowly freezing
And my thoughts began to pop.

Will that bus ever get here?
It's twenty minutes late.
If it wasn't for the weather
I wouldn't mind the wait.

Oh look, it's coming 'round the bend,
The bus is here — I'm saved! Amen!!

BARBARA KELLEY '54

THE GAME

The score was nothing to nothing,
The period — number four,
The time was fifty seconds,
The fans had hoped for more.

The score was nothing to nothing,
And the home team had the ball,
The little guy that couldn't shoot
Was viewed with scorn by all.

The score was nothing to nothing,
He vowed at least he'd try,
Just then the buzzer stopped the game,
The fans let out a cry.

The score had been nothing to nothing,
The coach could stand no more,
But the ball had filled the basket
And changed the home team's score.

The score was two to nothing,
Observe the little guy,
He was hugged and kissed by all the fans,
And the coach held him up high.

The old gym shook and then it rocked,
The fans went wild with glee,
To think that we had won the game,
One shot spelled victory.

WITHOUT US

Like salt without the pepper,
Or a boat without a sail;
Like pie without some ice-cream,
Or the mailman without mail.

Like Christmas without Santa,
Or the sea without a fish;
Like a lock without a key,
Or a star without a wish.

Like a hammer without a nail,
Or a fork without a knife;
Like spring without true love,
Or a man without a wife.

Like a car without a motor,
Or a pitcher without a glass;
That would be Old Town High School,
Without this senior class.

BEAUTY

Never before have my eyes feasted upon such a heavenly creation. Her eyes have the luster and sparkle of rare Arabian opals. Her lovely limbs are of unmatched beauty. As she walks by, people stop whatever they may be doing and watch her until she is out of sight. Her hair glows and shimmers in the sun. Who is this lovely creature? Ah, she is Charlene, our bob-tailed tiger cat.

RICHARD CHADBOURNE '52

CLASS SECRETARY

There's fun in serving others
And plenty of heartaches too,
There are praises, smiles, and grumblings,
And arguments old and new.

But it's nice to know they want you
To represent them there,
To know they put their trust in you
For you'll never be unfair.

You always try to do your best
And hope they will approve,
Then when you're re-elected
You know you're in the groove.

RETA OGDEN '52

SROTALACSE

You stare at it in amazement and tell yourself that whoever invented this was certainly a clever man. After you have examined it for awhile, at a distance, you wonder how it works. You step bravely up to the little ramp and watch it more closely. You think you will make one desperate try, but there is an uncertainty about you, so you don't go through with it. You look around and wonder if people are staring at you. They are not, so you decide to make another attempt, only to become fainthearted again.

Well, I'll try once more, you say. The third time never fails. Once more you bravely step forward, this time to plunge ungracefully onto the little black moving ramp. For a moment you have a sensation as though you are going to lose your balance, but then it passes.

Having fought and won your battle, you sigh and say that it wasn't so bad after all. Then you wonder, why don't they have escalators in every store?

ELEANOR DOW '52

LAST LETTER

It was only a letter
  All tattered and torn,
From a boy over there
  Who'd been battle worn.

He's left this dark world,
  He is one of the few
Who have passed on to heaven
  For me and for you.

The poor lady read it
  With tears in her eyes,
Her hand started shaking,
  She looked to the skies.

And now all alone
  She rocks in her chair,
And prays for the boys
  Who still fight over there.

FRANK BERTRAND '52

A SLEIGH RIDE

The sun is shining brightly
  As we climb into the sleigh,
The children all are laughing,
  Eager to be on their way.

Hear the sleigh bells jingle
  As we glide across the snow,
Giddap there, Jack and Dobbin,
  Hi ho! Away we go!

See the trees around us
  All weighted down with snow,
Oh, what a beautiful sight they make
  As merrily we go.

There's a great big snowdrift,
  A rabbit's coming this way,
Watch out there, little fellow,
  Or you'll land beneath the sleigh.

Now we've started home again
  And I think you'll all agree
There's nothing like a sleigh ride
  To make your heart feel free.

JEANETTE FOSTER '52

MY CAREER – TEACHING

After I graduate, I would like to go to normal school and study teaching. I want to be a teacher because I believe teaching would be interesting work. In this field I must work with people in such a way as to help them help themselves. I would feel a satisfaction in knowing I was helping my students. In teaching, I feel that I would give my time willingly and be patient wth the pupils.

Today as always, teachers are necessary in our modern life. Their understanding and knowledge are important to the children of today, who will be the leaders of our country tomorrow. Because I like children and enjoy working with them, I know that a career of teaching would be the most interesting one for me.

DOROTHY STROUT '52

DEAR DIARY

I'm not the kind of person
  Who tells everything, it's true,
But, Friend, I think it's safe for me
  To tell my thoughts to you.

You don't reveal my secrets
  And you never laugh at me,
I'll trust you to my dying day —
  Dear Friend, Dear Diary.

JACQUELINE PARENT '52

HOT RODS

Squeaking and rattling they roll down the road,
Bouncing along like a warty old toad,
Bucking and spitting they burn up the oil
As they kick and they roar and they tear up the soil.

Holding together with old nuts and bolts,
Always as fierce as a herd of young colts;
Rods ever knocking and wrist pins now slapping,
Wherever they go they are met with loud clapping.

Although they are wrecks by mechanical laws,
I'll take them instead of a new car, because
A youngster of ten years can easily run 'em,
And if you get mad, you can manage to junk 'em.

FRANCIS GUAY '52

THE RADIO REPAIRMAN

The first night that I moved into a new neighborhood, my radio broke down. Annoyed, I ran down the block to a sign that read "Radio Repair Man."

Finding the shop empty as I entered, I started to browse around. Almost immediately I confronted a man, who appeared to be about twenty years of age. He was wearing dark glasses, but as it was a sunny day and the shop had large windows, I didn't think this too strange. I explained my situation and gave him my address, telling him that I would be at home all afternoon and would expect him as soon as he got a chance to come.

It was about an hour later when the door bell rang. I answered, expecting to find only the repair man, but much to my surprise I found a young girl waiting there also, with the repair man's hand in hers. I thought to myself that they must just be in love, since they appeared to be the same age.

I led them into the room where the radio was sitting in the middle of the floor. He put down his tools, after feeling over the back of the radio for about ten minutes. Finally he began working rapidly. I thought it strange for him to be still wearing the dark glasses, but I didn't want to appear rude, so I kept my thoughts to myself. The girl stood beside him, and he kept asking her for certain tools. Almost instantly she would select the correct tool, and I noticed she would always put it into his hand for him.

Finally they finished, and the radio worked perfectly. I paid him for a job well done, and they left, the girl leading the way with his hand in hers.

The next day, my curiosity being too much for me, I asked a neighbor about him. I was very much surprised when I learned that this fellow, an expert radio repairman, was totally blind.

PLAYING HOOKEY

The cop was round the corner
  And he caught me by surprise,
For I was playing hookey,
  This much he did surmise.

He grabbed me by the collar
  And he turned me round about,
He told me I should be in school
  And this I did not doubt.

He took me to the principal,
  Who smiled my faith to win,
And then his mouth turned upside down
  Once the office we were in.

He asked where I was going,
I was supposed to be in school!
But the joke was all on them,
I was playing April Fool.

THE STORY OF CICERYLE

Ciceryle was a knight who was ever so bold,
Although he was then only nineteen years old,
A knight he had been for more than two years,
But the sound of the battle was new to his ears.

At last one sad day he was called to the Palace
And learned from the king that someone had killed Alice,
Alice the beautiful, Alice the fair,
Alice right now had an axe in her hair.

When Ciceryle left, there was a flood
Of flesh and bones and people's blood,
He was sent to search a knight called Fain,
The cause of why poor Alice was slain.

When at last he encountered that adamant knight,
Another came swiftly to join in the fight,
And now as we look on this horrible scene,
Behold there is Ciceryle dead in the stream.

Sad, sorrowful sight, it is time that we fled,
Look again, it's not Ciceryle, only his head.

RICHARD HASKELL '54

ON TIME

I woke at eight
And with great haste
Got set for school,
No time to waste.

I hurried off
To join the crowd,
And for such speed
I felt real proud.

I turned the corner,
Gazed to my right,
Sped down the street,
No one in sight.

I reached the school,
Stopped in dismay,
For I recalled
'Twas Saturday.

NANCY BABIN '54

THESE THINGS I LOVE

Above all else, these things I love —
However small they seem to you
To me they show God up above,
Offering peace eternal, true.

To bed at night without a sigh,
Beneath a roof of twinkling stars,
While branch streams sing a lullaby,
Instead of noisy motor cars.

To wake at dawn, rise with the sun,
Cook breakfast over a fire of wood,
Shoulder my pack, strap on my gun,
And fish all day where fishing's good.

I find here freedom, time to play,
Riches are mine and wealth untold,
I'm king of all that I survey,
Let me have this; give fools their gold.

FRED DOW '52

JUST A SMILE

'Twas just a smile that was given
From a friend whom I chanced to meet,
With a face as bright as a sunbeam
In the busy city street.

Yet to my heart it brought sweetness,
That smile so loving and true,
That my troubles soon melted to nothing —
And I found myself smiling too.

A LESSON

When I was a little girl, my parents could never scold me or punish me when I was unruly, because I would cry until I became sick; therefore, they resorted to other measures of discipline that I am sure were just as effective. Today I look back on them and laugh.

The incident that I remember best is the day when I cut my hair. I have always had naturally curly hair, and when I was a little girl I wore it in long ringlets. For some reason or other I always wanted to have short hair. When my sister had her hair cut, I teased to have mine cut too, but my folks did not give in, so I took matters into my own hands. I was only about four years old at the time, but I can still remember the incident clearly.

I had a pair of toy scissors which, of course, were not sharp enough to be harmful; however, they were quite effective in cutting paper dolls and, as I also found out, hair. I did a very untidy job of cutting off the front of my hair with them. Mama didn't say much when she saw it, but I knew that she was not very pleased. When my father came home from work that night, the trouble really started.

If you knew my father, I am sure you would understand the effect of his next words on a little four-year-old who was already sorry for what she had done. He is over six feet tall, which seems very tall when you're only four, and when he says something funny, he can keep his face just as straight as a poker. He didn't give me the scolding that I expected and knew that I deserved. He simply said, "Well, when we go to town on Saturday, we'll take you into Barney Moores' Garage and have him weld your hair back on."

I didn't know that hair couldn't be welded back on, and I was thoroughly terrified. When Saturday came, terror was still mounting within me. When we reached town I said hardly a word, because I thought that if I were quiet they might forget me. Sure enough, they forgot. I breathed a little easier when I reached home, but I didn't dare mention it because I thought that they might have it done some other time. Of course they never did and I understand now why they didn't, but it was a long time before I found out that they were just kidding me.

You can be very sure that I never cut my hair again without permission from my parents. In fact, my hair was never cut again until I was in junior high school.

LOVE OF MY LIFE

My heart is all a-stir for you,
  My mind don't know just what to do;
I live for you, my little pearl,
  You are my everlasting girl.

And that's not all, my little one;
  You are my moon, you are my sun,
There ain't much in this world but strife,
  But I have you, and you're my life.

If Fate should ask me, "What have you
  To dedicate your life's work to?"
I'd think of you and then I'd tell her,
  "I have my donkey, Esmerelda."

A BOY'S ORDEAL

Ma says, "Take the rubbish out."
  Pa says, "Shut the door."
Sis says, "Wipe the dishes."
  Then comes more and more.

Ma says, "Scrub your neck."
  Pa says, "Comb your hair."
Sis says, "Wash your face."
  And it goes on from there.

Ma says, "Rise at dawn."
  Pa says, "Just play fair."
Sis says, "Mind your manners."
  And where do I get? Nowhere.

MY DREAM

I would like to build a cabin
  In a field where grass is green,
Where the sky is filled with bluebirds
  And the air is sweet and clean.

I would like to plant a garden
  Where the weeds may never grow,
And share a life that's happy
  With a pretty girl I know.

Here we'd live in our small cabin
  With our children dear and kind,
Until life's long days are over,
  Then another home we'd find.

MY CAR

My car, oh gee, he neva run,
He just-a drag along, you see,
As for hees speed, that consarn thing,
He can't exceed-a twenty-three.

He stop and stall along the road,
Of course I can't complain or fuss,
Because he does-a go-a some
But sound-a like the bus.

Ef you should wish-a good-a car
You betta not-a come to me,
I'll neva sell my leetla car
No matter how sincere your plea.

SQUIRT'S DIARY

If Squirt, my cousin Barbara, aged two, were old enough to keep a diary, it would read something like this:

Monday. Mommy washed the clothes. I helped. Turned on pump of washing machine and emptied water all over the floor and almost drowned the pups. When Mommy came in from hanging out some clothes, she was quite irritated (that's her pet word). She cleaned up the water. Put me to bed.

Tuesday. Mommy cooked. I helped. Emptied dog food into the cookies. Mommy threw them away. Don't see why. I eat it when nobody sees me. It's good. Mommy started over. Later I only tried to take a pan of cookies from the oven. I landed in bed again.

Wednesday. Mommy went shopping. I went too. We went into the grocery store. I upset all the canned goods I could reach and finally got lost. I don't go shopping anymore.

Thursday. Had a hard day. Mommy put me to bed early. Daddy got me up. We went to St. Andrews. They took me into a restaurant in my night dress. Didn't get anything to eat. Mommy upset her soda. I got the blame for that too. When I got home I was glad to get to bed.

Friday. Mommy took me to see a little boy. We had fun. I pushed him off a chair and beat him up. He cried. I went home.

Saturday. Mommy cleaned house. I helped. I cleaned the fireplace. When Mommy found me I looked like a chimney sweep. Mommy spanked me. Daddy put me to bed.

Sunday. Mommy was busy getting dinner. Didn't know what to do with my bib so I threw it on the gas stove. It caught fire and burned pretty. Mommy was awful irritated. She doesn't have red hair for nothing. I always end up in bed.

LITERATURE

Why must we study literature?
It's this I'd like to know.
What do I care about Whittier
Or Edgar Allen Poe?

What difference does it make to me
By whom "Cool Tombs" was written,
Or if Bret Harte was sixty-three
When he by death was smitten?

I think it's just a waste of time,
And so it's plain to see
That I don't earn a passing grade,
Instead I get an E.

BENCH WARMERS

The score is 42 to 40,
The crowd is all aghast;
If our poor team can't win tonight,
This game will be their last.

But things don't look so good for us,
The end is nearing now;
If Coach would only put me in,
Bet I could show 'em how.

I'd capture all the rebounds,
Then I'd dribble down the floor,
And swish, right through the basket,
Oh, how I'd raise that score!

Look, now our team is creeping up,
The boys are full of vim;
What's that, a forward's hurt his knee
And I am going in?

I didn't scorce the basket
That finally won the game,
But I was the one who threw the pass
That led our team to fame.

I'M BETTER THAN HE IS

I'm better than he is;
He's got a dirty face.
I'm better than she is;
She's from a difference race.

(How often have I heard these words
As I pass along my way.)
I'm better than he is;
I know enough to pray.

My religion is better;
My mother told me so.
I'm better than he is;
My clothes cost more, you know.

My nose is better looking;
My teeth are clean and white;
My house is on the "right" side;
I don't get drunk at night.

(I'll bet if you had had the breaks
That these "inferiors" had,
You'd be the one looked down upon
By another ignorant cad.)

A PERFECT GENTLEMAN

The perfect gentleman is manly. He is polished from his gestures down to the way he walks. His manners are superb, and he will go out of his way to please a lady.

I know just such a gentleman. Excellent are his manners. He holds his head high, and he walks proudly. He has a deep voice. His well-brushed hair has a clean, healthy shine. At the dining table he is the center of attraction because of his knowledge of etiquette. He sits and waits until the food is passed to him, or he speaks gently for something that does not come his way.

My every wish is his command. When I want to go for a walk, he is always present to accompany me. He never looks at other girls but stays close by my side. When I tire of walking, he is willing to return home with me.

If I want to listen to music or knit or read, he doesn't get impatient. No, he sits and waits until I can again turn my attention to him.

Yes, he will do anything to please a lady. I am his lady, and he is my little gentleman—Angus, my cocker spaniel.

THINGS THAT HURT

Sometimes even though you have an injury that is painful, the thoughts that go through your mind hurt you even more. To explain what I mean, let me use a true experience of mine. It started one cool September night, when the Old Town High School football team traveled to Madison to play a night game. I had been the regular center all season, but because of injuries the coach had changed me to halfback. This was the first time I had ever run from the backfield in a varsity game. I felt different about this game, maybe a bit apprehensive. As I listened for the whistle to sound for the game to get under way, I was nervous and I could feel butterflies in my stomach.

We lost the flip of the coin and Madison elected to receive. As I sat on the bench waiting for my turn to run an offense, the coach came over and said, "How do you feel? Know your plays?" Assuring him that I did, I was sent in.

It all seemed strange to me at first, but Lady Luck must have been with me, for

I ran, gaining each carry. Then my Lady Luck seemed to fly away. I got hurt. It happened when one of the quarterbacks called 39-R, which was a play I carried wide around my right end. When the ball snapped, I took the hand-off from the halfback and started behind my interference wide around end.

Two of my interferers left me at the line of scrimmage to block the backer-ups. As they disappeared, I broke for the sidelines and got hit hard down around the ankles. I spun, trying to pivot away, but another tackle hit me high. I landed with a jolt. The pain shot right through my right leg, and the lights started spinning as if they were going to fall on top of me. I had a chipped ankle which hurt, but what hurt more was those eyes from the crowd burning through me.

I wanted to get up and walk, and to think that I couldn't made tears roll down my face. The embarrassment of being carried off the field on a stretcher hurt more than did the throbbing ankle.

They carried me into the Madison High School building and put me on a small bed to await the ambulance. The kindness of friends seemed to make me forget for awhile, but then I began to cry again, not because of my leg but because I thought that I had played my last football game. The assistant coach seemed to know that I was hurt more inside than out. The smooth manner in which he told me how I would be ready for next week seemed to lighten the heavy load. The coach reviewed the game for me. What he said to me about my playing should have made me happy; instead, I felt worse than ever, realizing that I wouldn't be with our happy group, throwing wet towels around the shower room, thrilled over our win. I would be going home lonely in an ambulance. My ankle was not aching much, but I still cried, because I was hurt inside, down deep where it hurts the most, that's why.

OLD TOWN HIGH

O Is for the old routine
That makes us all so nice,
L Is for the laughter
That usually breaks the ice,
D Is for the daring boys
Who are always making fun,

T Is for the teachers
Who make these same boys run,
O Is for old-fashioned girls
That seem so sweet and frail,
W Is for the wives they'll be
With scrub mop, soap, and pail,
N Is for the noontime fun
That breaks up our school day,

H Is for the hours of work
That bring in little pay,
I Is for our Indians,
The team of which we're proud,
G Is for the good old gangs
That help complete our crowd,
H Is for the high school
That has brought us all great joy,
In the future we'll remember you,
Every teacher, girl, and boy.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL MEETING

I went to a drugstore
One sunshiny day,
It was a little place
With music gay,
I sat at the counter
And drank a coke,
But I looked in my wallet
And found I was broke,
So I searched my pants pocket
And nothing was there,
My gracious, I surely
Have money somewhere,
But alas, I knew
That I was a gonner
When I saw the waitress
Come round the corner.

So I'm washing dishes
In a sink,
It's a difficult job,
But you know what I think?
I'm accomplishing something
With all of this work,
I'm falling in love
With a Soda Jerk!

A LAZY MAN'S THOUGHTS

Have you ever observed bath water? I don't mean the texture or the color, but rather the behavior of the water. After the plug has been pulled and the water begins to drain, notice how it curls around and around in a funnel-shaped pattern. Now I have watched many times, and the water always curls the same way—from left to right.

I once read that the miniature whirl-pools that lie at the foot of dams also whirl in a clockwise manner. Another observation of mine was how smoke curls up into the sky on a windless day. It also spirals from left to right. When I was small, there was a rose trellis in our yard and a special type of vine began to grow up the sides. Each one of the vines wound its way in a clockwise manner up the framework of the trellis.

I used to wonder if all this was coincidental or part of the pattern of nature; however, I once read the works of a renowned philosopher, and in his writings he spoke of the fact that in Chile smoke curls from right to left.

Now I am puzzled. I would like to know if bath water, and whirl-pools, and vines in Chile curl and wind their way from right to left like the smoke. If they do, it is certainly due to gravity and the position of the equator. If these things are true, what happens when a fire is built on the equator?

Another thing that can easily be observed is the mannerisms of people. In dancing and playing games, for instance, people go from right to left. In baseball, if the runner goes around the bases, he goes from right to left, doesn't he? Well, I wonder if the people of Chile do the opposite.

One final puzzling question: I wonder if the majority of South Americans are lefthanded and if watches and clocks run backward. If they do, my reaction is that part of the time some of the people are normal and the rest of the time the other people are normal. The easy thing to do, however, is to let the world keep going as it has been and let lazy people like me spend their time in more simple thought patterns.

ARE WE ALL THE SAME?

The white people believe themselves to be better than the Negro, and why should they not be superior? They have better opportunities for education, better living quarters, and chances for advancement. If a family of Negroes move into a section of whites, the townspeople will fight anything to prevent them from living in their neighborhood. Yet they will turn around and employ a Negro maid or a Negro cook. If they believe the Negroes are not intelligent, why do they allow Negro maids to care for their children? And if they think they are unclean and not equal to a white person, why do they allow Negro cooks to handle their food?

Take a little look around the classroom. No two people in the room have the same complexion, but they are not barred from activities. Why shut out the Negro because of his black skin?

MY NIECE'S VISIT

Did you ever experience the thrill of hearing pitter-patter of tiny feet sounding along the hallway while you are attempting to sleep? Did you ever get the rise of seeing your mascara blotched on little eyes, or cringe in horror when your powder is dusted on the floor from the bed to the corridor? And did you ever sit down to eat a meal that you think just can't be beat, when all of a sudden through the air, mashed potato lands in your hair? And then again, did you ever dress with care, applying lipstick rare, then trip not so lightly on the stair on dolls and dishes lying there? Well, if you haven't, I don't envy you, because in spite of all these tribulations I wouldn't swap my niece for the United Nations.

THE UNSUCCESSFUL SECRETARY

Mary had a better job at last. She was to be the private secretary to the vice-president of a large company in her town. That first morning she dressed carefully, selecting her brown skirt, gray sweater, red socks, and saddle shoes run down at the heels. She had only five minutes to catch the bus, and when she got to the stop, the bus had gone.

When she arrived at the office twenty minutes late, her boss just looked at her and said nothing. Later he called her to take dictation.

"Good-morning, Mary," greeted Mr. Jones.

"Hi, Bill," repied Mary.

Mr. Jones again just looked at her and started to dictate.

"Dear Mr. Bird: Thank you --- What's the matter?"

"My pencil just broke," said Mary, as she rose to sharpen it. She sharpened and sharpened so long that Mr. Jones gave her his pencil to use.

After taking dictation, Mary began to transcribe her notes. She made an error in the first letter, but she did not erase it because it was lunchtime and she had decided this error did not need to be erased anyway.

At lunch she spilled coffee all over her skirt, and she left the skirt like that—all spotted.

That afternoon a man came to see Mr. Jones. "Hello, Miss. Is Mr. Jones in? I'd like to see him if I may."

Mr. Jones then came out from the inner office, and seeing Mr. Brown standing there, he greeted him cordially.

"Good afternoon, Mr. Brown. How are you? I believe you haven't met my secretary. Mary, this is Mr. Brown, the president of our company." At those words Mary shrank into her chair.

That night before leaving, Mary was dismissed from her job. Her boss explained to her that he was disillusioned about her ability as a secretary and that her job required a different personality from the one Mary had shown that day.

Mary sighed and left the office. "Oh, well, guess I'll have to look for another job," she mused.

CONSCIENCE

The night is still and dark, still as the dead and darker than a thunder cloud. What is it that makes these tired eyes refuse to shut out this abyss of endless black? Why does this stillness persist in pressing forward? Yes, I know, but I am afraid. Why did I do it? I didn't really want to. I just thought I was being smart, but I wasn't quite smart enough. You see, I was caught chewing gum in school today.

DEBATE CLUB

During the first of October the Debate Club met to plan the schedule for the coming year. The national school question for debate this year was: Resolved, that all American Citizens Should be Subject to Conscription for Essential Service in Time of War.

The Penobscot Valley Conference Tournament was held in March. An affirmative team, composed of Virginia Lavoie and Sharon Leavitt, and a negative team, composed of Betty Buzzell and Jessie Sargent, represented Old Town. Janice Davis served as alternate for the two teams.

The affirmative team had an excellent record and consequently tied with Brewer for the trophy. Their wins were over Orono, John Bapst, Brewer, Bucksport, and Ellsworth. Their one loss was to Bar Harbor. The negative was victorious over Orono, Ellsworth, and Bucksport. Losses were to John Bapst, Brewer, and Bar Harbor.

A third debating activity in which our club participated was the state-wide Bates interscholastic competition held in March. In this activity Old Town High School won the sectional contest by defeating Stearns High School 3-0 and Brewer High School 2-1, and thus qualified for the tournament on the Bates College campus in April, placing fifth.

Officers were elected by the club as follows: President, Sharon Leavitt; Vice-President, Virginia Lavoie; Secretary, Alice Littlefield; Publicity Chairman, Lawrence Dutton.

The Debate Club wishes to thank the faculty for serving as judges. We should also like to express our deepest gratitude to our coach, Miss Margaret Mollison, for her constant and untiring effort to help the club achieve the success it has earned during the past year.

SHARON LEAVITT '53

STUDENT COUNCIL

For the year 1951-52 the Student Council elected the following officers: President, Jackie Cutliffe; Vice-President, Richard Martin; Secretary, Jean Archambaud; Treasurer, Janet Smith. Class representatives to the council are as follows: Seniors — Jean Archambaud, Jackie Cutliffe, George Brissette; Juniors — Janet Smith, Richard Martin, Russell Godin; Sophomores — Sandra Burke, Sanford Podolsky, and Gene Guerin.

The first activity sponsored by the council was the Sophomore Reception. The magazine sales project was again carried on. The profit enabled us to finance the annual Christmas party and assist in financing expenses of our Regional Science Fair winners, when they represented our school at the State Science Fair; and the debating teams in their trip to Bates College, when they won their way into the semi-finals in April. A special project for the year was to purchase frames for pictures of outstanding school groups to be placed in the new building. Before the year is completed, the council expects to provide for some other special projects, which we cannot disclose at this time.

Among the problems presented to the council was the advisability of publishing a school paper. The council decided that a paper should not be started until fewer activities are carried by the school than is the case at present, so that students and teachers will not be further overburdened by an activity schedule already too heavy.

The council members wish to express their appreciation to Mr. John Abbott for his help throughout the year.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

On October 2, 1951, the Girls' Glee Club held its first meeting. The following officers were elected: President, Elaine Brown; Vice-President, Jeanette Foster; Secretary, Patricia Godfrey; Treasurer, Joyce Ann Brochu. Meetings are held every week on Tuesday. The club, divided into three groups, soprano, second soprano, and alto, is made up of senior, junior, and sophomore girls.

The club made its first appearance at a Parent-Teachers meeting in November. They sang "The Lord's Prayer," "Bali Hai," and "A Wonderful Guy." Now the group is rehearsing "Oklahoma," "Nocturne," "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," and "The Rosary." The next appearance was on April 29 at the Penobscot Women's Club Bazaar. Following that, the club appeared in the annual Evening of Music and Music Festival.

The girls wish to express their sincere appreciation for the leadership of their director, Mr. Charles Garabedian. Thanks are also extended to Jeanette Foster, who has been the accompasist.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Glee Club was organized early in the school year under the direction of Mr. Charles Garabedian, and it has met each Monday afternoon. It is divided into two singing groups, tenor and bass. The tenor group consists of Merton Stormann, John Michaud, Richard Thibodeau, Alfred Webster, Fred Dow, Ronald Gilbert, Donald Marsh, Roy Thurston, Thomas Haley, and Charles Thibodeau. The bass parts are sung by Alden Bradbury, Norman Ogden, Frank Bertrand, Beverly Hinckley, Jackie Abbott, Herbert Buck, William Marquis, John Cutliffe, Alphonse Laliberte, and Walter Curtis.

The club participated in the program at the Christmas party. It is now preparing four selections, "April Showers," "Don't Fence Me In," "Stout-Hearted Men," and "Oklahoma," for Music Night. Four members of the club took part as a quartet in the state play contest. They were Fred Dow, Ronald Gilbert, Donald Marsh, and Beverly Hinckley.

The help of the accompanist, Elaine Brown, and the direction of Mr. Garabedian have been deeply appreciated.

BAND

This year proved very successful for the school band. At the beginning of the year we elected the following officers: President, Beverly Hinckley; Vice-President, Ronald Gilbert; Secretary, Linda Berry; Tresurer, Patricia Forbes.

The band played at all home basketball and football games, as well as at a few out-of-town games. It played at the Eastern Maine Basketball Tournament in Orono, the state championship game in Portland, and the New England Interscholastic Basketball Tournament in Boston, as well as at the Santa Claus Parade, Coaches' Night, and a polio benefit game. This spring the band is playing at Music Night and at the Eastern Maine Music Festival in Orono.

Members of the band are as follows: trumpets, William Marquis, Harold Laskey, William Girouard, James Gallant, Richard Martin, Helen Clewley; clarinets, John Marquis, Leith Wadleigh, Richard Sibo, Nathan Rich, Carlista Sargent, Linda Berry, Wilma Brown, Mary Ellen Clewley, Bruce Babin; alto-saxophones, Llewellyn Rand, Ronald Gilbert; trombones, David Ketchen, Kenneth LaFlamme, Merton Stormann, Bryce Grindle; tuba, Beverly Hinckley; flute, Peter Emmett; glockenspiel, Alice Littlefield; street drums, Phillip Dow, Richard Delaney, Patricia Forbes, Chesley Littlefield, Byron Chappelle; bass drum, Edward Oakes; cymbals, Wayne Chappelle.

The members of the band wish to thank Mr. Leo Thayer, director, for the work he has done to make our band successful.

STATE PLAY

Walter Carroll's "Coming For To Carry" was the one-act play selected this year for presentation in the annual state one-act play contest. This folk fantasy tells the story of an angel who returned to earth to help a pretty young girl become aware of the sins around her.

Old Town placed second in competition with Bangor, Orono, and Hermon at the new Orono gymnasium on March 19.

The cast consisted of Carol M. Beaulieu, Richard Fayle, Sanford Podolsky, Charles Thibodeau, Robert Thibodeau, and Richard Chadbourne. A quartet made up of Donald Marsh, Beverly Hinckley, Fred Dow, and Ronald Gilbert, members of the Boys' Glee Club, supplied the musical background by singing "Comin' for to Carry Me Home." Robert Sibley directed them.

Alice Littlefield was prompter, John Michaud handled lights and make-up, and the play was directed by Mrs. Robert Poulin.

DRAMATICS CLUB

Try-outs were held at the beginning of the year for the selection of new members. The club voted to have a total of not more than forty members. For this reason, only ten additional students could be accepted for membership.

Last spring the following officers were elected: Elizabeth Arsenault, Director; Peggy Beek, Co-Director; Mary Ellen St. John, Secretary; Nanette Blanchard, Program Chairman.

This year the club voted to put on a musical instead of the annual three one-act plays, so that more members could participate in a production. Try-outs for this musical were held April 2, 1952. The fact that the club had much more singing and dancing talent this year than in previous years helped to make the musical possible.

A committee was elected by the club to revise the 1951 Charter. Those elected to the Committee were Nanette Blanchard, John Michaud, and Mary Ellen St. John.

The members of the Dramatics Club wish to express their thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Robert Poulin, who was very helpful in the improvement of our club.

SENIOR PLAY

A sparkling three-act comedy entitled "Who's Batty Now?" was presented by the senior class on November 2, 1951, at the Helen Hunt Auditorium. It was a fast moving and genuinely amusing play about the mad, merry Hatters, as lovable and laughable a family of eccentrics as you have ever come across. Seniors in the cast were Marilyn Leavitt, John MacKenzie, Patricia Cyr, Richard Fayle, Elizabeth Arsenault, Fred Dow, Jackie Cutliffe, Jacqueline Parent, Jessie Sargent, John Michaud, Cynthia Whitney, Richard Chadbourne, and Wesley Carr.

The staff was as follows: Manager, Constance Cunningham; Prompter, Marilyn Stubbs; Stage Props, William Winter, Merle Jordan, Robert Day, and Robert Pelletier; Tickets, Joyce Ann Brochu, Shirley LaBree, Francis Richards, Harriet Parks; Publicity, Janet Littlefield, Doreen Goodin, Lawrence Spinney, Alden Bradbury, Linwood Randall; Ushers, Ruth Brooks, Nanette Blanchard, Fern Nason, Gladys Thibodeau, Patricia Martin; Curtain, William Curran.

The cast wishes to express its appreciation to Mrs. Robert Poulin, the coach of dramatics, for directing the play.

JUNIOR SPEAKING EXHIBITION

After Thanksgiving vacation, tryouts for the Junior Speaking Exhibition were held in the Junior English classes, with each pupil giving a short recitation. This year the students qualifying for the semi-finals were Rachel Day, Jeannine Couillard, Joan Arsenault, Sharon Leavitt, Mary Ellen St. John, Priscilla St. Louis, Cynthia Fellencer, Bert Lemieux, Kenneth LaFlamme, Donald Marsh, and William Girouard.

From this group eight finalists were chosen to speak in the following program on February 9 in the Helen Hunt Auditorium: "The Open Window," Lorraine Dolan; Cutting from General Douglas MacArthur's "Farewell Address," William Girouard; "Brothers Take A Bow," Bert Lemieux; "Joan of Lorraine," Jeannine Couillard; "Rebecca," Mary Ellen St. John; "University Days," Kenneth LaFlamme; "The Juggler of Touraine," Donald Marsh; "Hungah," Betty Thibodeau.

During the program the high school orchestra played several selections, under the direction of Mr. Charles Garabedian. At the conclusion, each finalist was presented with a silver medal appropriately engraved.

The speakers wish to express their appreciation to their coach, Mrs. Robert Poulin.

BIOLOGY CLUB

The Biology Club began its fourth year with an enrollment of twenty-seven members. The following officers were elected for the year: President, Lawrence Spinney; Vice-President, Fred Dow; Secretary, Patricia Martin; Treasurer, Jeannette Stevens.

The club held a Barn Dance in November to raise money for the purchase of materials needed for projects. An orchestra was obtained for the dance.

The projects that were entered in the Regional Science Fair held at Orono High School on March 29 were the Cat Skeleton, by Janice Davis and Larry Spinney, and the Nutrition of White Rats, by Corinne Currier and Janice Mayhew. The latter project, having taken second place in the Regional Fair, was entered in the State Science Fair and Congress at Colby College.

The Biology Club members of 1952 want to thank Mr. Raymond Gove for the guidance he has given throughout the year.

PATRICIA MARTIN '52

CHEMISTRY-PHYSICS CLUB

The Chemistry-Physics Club started the 1951-52 year with Elaine Brown as President; Jean Archambaud, Vice-President and Program Chairman; Jackie Abbott, Secretary; and Joyce Ann Brochu, Treasurer.

The club had a successful year with entertaining and educational programs headed by Jean Archambaud. At the Regional Science Fair held at Orono High School on March 29, Alice Littlefield and Norene Thibault won first place in the chemistry division. Their project was the determination of Vitamin C. This entitled them to represent the school at the State Science Fair at Colby College. A field trip to the Bangor Filter Center was taken in April. This proved most interesting to the members of the club.

We wish to thank Mr. Floyd Redman for his keen interest in club activities and for his friendly co-operation throughout the year.

GIRLS' CHORUS

The Girls' Chorus, which is under the supervision of Robert Sibley, a student at the University of Maine, was organized two years ago. This year the first meeting was held on December 11, 1951. At that time three sections were compiled, soprano, second soprano, and alto. This club holds its weekly meetings after school on Tuesday.

Although the club has not yet made a public appearance, it is preparing certain selections for Music Night. The main selection being rehearsed is "The Gypsy Love Song."

The members of the Girls' Chorus want to thank Mr. Sibley, director and accompanist, for his help.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

With the opening of the school year at Old Town High School began the activities of the F. H. A. The results of the election at the first meeting were as follows: President, Constance Cunningham; Vice-President, Rita Thibodeau; Secretary, Delores Smith; Reporter, Betty Lee Avery; Historian, Doris Rand. Mrs. Allen Cunningham was selected again this year to be our Chapter Mother.

Many activities were enjoyed throughout the year, among which were panel discussions, fashions, and various speakers.

The spring Fashion Show, to be presented on May 20, is one of the chief projects of the club. Clothes made by club members are modeled by them. Exhibits represent the work of the club. Refreshments are served also.

To Miss Eloise Law, our chapter adviser, we wish to extend deep appreciation and thanks.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA
Record Since May, 1951

Officers for 1951-52: President, Kenneth LaFlamme; Vice-President, William Marquis; Secretary, Jerome Mishou; Treasurer, Richard Morse; Reporter, Earl Pelletier; Sentinels, Maurice Martin and Leonard Smith.

For the first time in the history of the chapter we won the Grand Championship in the contests at the State Convention by placing as follows in the events: First in Cattle Judging, Forage Crops, and Chapter Meeting Contest; Second in Milk Judging, Farm Mechanics, Public Speaking, and Poultry Judging; Third in Potato Disease Identification.

The members of the Grand Championship Team were given an award of a trip to Boston, which included a tour of the city, tickets to a Major League ball game, and accommodations at the Bellevue Hotel. This award was furnished by the Charles M. Cox Company.

Our winning cattle-judging team represented the Chapter and State in the North Atlantic Regional Contests at the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield. There the team placed fourth among the winners from the ten North Atlantic States.

The Chapter milk-judging team won the milk-judging plaque at the Farmer's Fair by placing first and second in the individual scoring. This team consisted of Earl Pelletier and Richard Morse.

This year we had two more members make the highest degree awarded by the State Association, the Degree of State Farmer. New members making this degree were Richard Jameson and Chellis Smith. Norman Duplissie was elected State Treasurer and Earl Pelletier, District Reporter.

The Chapter Co-Operative Farm Business had its best year, with a total income of $3,331.81 from four and one-half acres of snap beans and one-half acre of market tomatoes.

The boys extend their heartiest thanks to their instructor, Mr. Clarence Spearin, for his guidance during the year.

AMPS AND REEL CLUB

This is the second year that the Amps and Reel Club has been active. At the end of last term Merle Jordan was elected as Chief Operator for 1951-1952. This is the only office in the club.

At the first meeting this year we accepted three new members, Francis Riva, Ronald Gilbert, and Richard Foster.

The club has the responsibility and care of the projector equipment, including the new opaque projector. The club also shows films within the school. The club has shown forty-six films this year, some of which were for outside engagements. A plan which provides for rotation of operators determines who will be selected to show the various films.

The operators thank Mr. Raymond Gove for his direction.

VARSITY CLUB

The first meeting was called to order on November 9, 1951, the officers for this term having been elected last year as follows: President, George Brissette; Vice-President, Charles Simon; Secretary, Alfred Webster; Treasurer, Edward Taylor.

The club successfully operated the concession at the home basketball games this year, with the profits used for athletics and club activities.

An initiation for new members is being held in May at Cold Stream Pond, through the courtesy of the Pearson family.

Another successful year under the capable direction of Mr. Howard Blasenak was completed. The club wishes to express its sincere gratitude to Mr. Blasenak.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The silent six, plus six, working under their new and much admired coach, John Barker, began early to adapt themselves to a new type of defense and attack, which proved to be a key factor in carrying the team through a most successful season. After many tedious but valuable weeks of practice, the team gradually began to develop into the new pattern.

The opening game drew near, bringing to the team its first real test. The new edition of the Indians dominated the play throughout the entire Madison game, finishing with a 57 to 21 victory. Then before long came the most important game of the regular season—that never-to-be-forgotten victory over Bangor, our first basketball victory over the Rams in seven years. This accomplishment gave Old Town great confidence and caused some coaches in the state to have a few sleepless nights!

The warriors were brilliant all through the season, racking up one of the most outstanding records in the state. They won seventeen victories against a lone defeat, that being to Ellsworth on their floor.

The climax of the season came when the Eastern Maine Tournament began. The first game of the tournament had Old Town lined up against the always-dangerous Bangor team. The game, which was packed with excitement, found Old Town once again the victor, this time by a score of 43 to 37. The game kept the eyes of the other participating teams on the spirited and driving Barkermen.

Next came the powerful Waterville club, which was the second opponent for the Indians in the tournament. Having no trouble with the Panthers, Old Town took this semi-final game with a decisive score of 53 to 30. Once again the crowd-pleasing Old Town team took the floor for their bid to win the Eastern Maine Championship, facing the Stearns Minutemen of Millinocket. The tribesmen put on a great exhibition of ball handling and control, winning by a score of 68-53. This was the second Old Town team to win an Eastern Maine Basketball Championship. On their return home, the Old Town Indians received a sincere and enthusiastic reception from their faithful fans.

Dick Carlow and Jackie Cutliffe were named on the Eastern Maine All-tourney first team. As an added feather in his bonnet Old Town's very capable captain, Dick Carlow, was honored with the Outstanding Player Award.

Working very hard every day, the squad prepared themselves for the state play-off to be held in Portland. Their foes were the king-sized Western Maine Champs from Lewiston. The team, along with a large segment of the population of Old Town, arrived at the Portland Exposition Building for its State Championship bid. From the opening whistle to the closing gun, a never-to-be forgotten drama was unfolded before an excited, cheering, and tense crowd. For the first time in the history of Old Town, the Indians, under the leadership of their brilliant coach, captured the state crown.

For the next two weeks the cry all over Old Town was "on to Boston," where the team was to have the honor of playing in the New England Tournament. While they were there, the Indians went down in defeat at the hands of the 1952 New England Champs, a team representing Hillhouse High School of New Haven, Connecticut. On returning home, the team was greeted with a warm welcome from its loyal rooters.

Throughout the season the team showed real sportsmanship, and this was referred to again and again by opponents, fans, and many officials throughout the state. This, together with many other desirable qualities, reflected the fine coaching received from Coach John Barker. The season of 1951-52 will go into the history of the school as a memorable one, long to be remembered because of the fine sportsmanship and the very exceptional record of its basketball team.

Special Dedication

Mr. Howard Blasenak

We, the students of Old Town High School, here pay tribute to a very deserving and conscientious teacher, a capable guidance director, and a popular and efficient coach, Mr. Howard Blasenak, who has worked diligently and untiringly in the interests of all his associates during the past five years.

We wish for him continued success and happiness as he leaves our school to obtain another graduate degree.

Good luck to a good friend, David"

TRACK 1951

This year the track team enjoyed one of its most successful seasons of the past five years. After placing second in the four-way meet with the University of Maine Freshmen, Orono High School, and Higgins Classical Institute, the team went on to take first place in a triangular meet with Bar Harbor and Ellsworth, and first place in a four-way meet with Ellsworth, Orono, and Brewer. For the fourth time in five years the team then won the Penobscot Valley Conference meet with a very large margin.

Eighteen members of the team entered the State Track Meet at Waterville, earning eight points. Among those placing were Chellis Smith, Fred Loring, Edward Taylor, and Capt. Deane Harris.

Smith and Loring placed second in the pole vault and high jump respectively, becoming eligible for the New England Meet held in Vermont. They made excellent showings among the stiff competition, Chellis Smith winning a medal for a tie for third place in the pole vault.

Fourteen letters were awarded for the season's work to the following boys: Captain Deane Harris, Edward Taylor, Alden Brangwynne, Ronald St. Louis, Chellis Smith, Neal Lowell, Robert Boardman, John Pearson, Herbert Buck, Fred Loring, George Brissette, Gene Guerin, John Cutliffe, Robert Thibodeau, Manager Arthur Herbert; Frank Bertrand, numerals.

RECORD

April 28—U. of M. Freshmen 71½, Orono 12, Higgins 12, Old Town 38½.
May 5—Old Town 85, Bar Harbor 24, Ellsworth 8.
May 19—Old Town 80½, Ellsworth 22, Orono 21, Brewer 19½.
May 26, P. V. C.—Old Town 60, Orono 25, Brewer 21½, Ellsworth 8½.
June 2—Old Town at Colby College, Waterville—State Meet 8.

The five lettermen left after graduation form a fine nucleus on which to build the 1952 team.

FOOTBALL

Under the direction of the very capable and likeable coach, Howard Blasenak, football season opened. Strong in the first game, the team defeated Fairfield. At the next game the team gave one of its great rivals, John Bapst, all the proof that the Indians were a team to be watched in this area. Old Town won this game by a score of 12-7.

From then on, the Old Town team was hampered by injuries, six members of the squad being on crutches at one time. Never did the remaining players slow down, however, or soften their punch. Teamwork really effected the maintenance of a presentable lineup and an acceptable record. Inspired by their loyal coach, the boys asked nothing and gave nothing. The spirit paid off, and as a result the team finished with a 4-4 record.

Co-captains were Paul Buchanan and George Brissette, seniors.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Junior Varsity Basketball team had another fine season under the coaching of Bernard MacKenzie, losing but six games in eighteen starts.

Coach MacKenzie really had a job facing him as the season began, having lost most of last season's players, who had either become seniors or had made the varsity squad. As usual, however, he came up with a fine club, which won eight of its first nine games, losing that one by only one point to Stearns High School at Millinocket.

Then Russell Godin and the LaPlante twins, Robert and Ralph, were promoted to varsity duty. The remaining squad, along with those taken from the varsity, did well, but they couldn't quite measure up to the fine record earlier in the season.

Standouts for this year's squad, in addition to those already mentioned, were Richard Martin, Arthur Miles, Leonard St. Peter, Elden Carroll, James LaGasse, and Walter Beaulieu.

BASEBALL 1951

After many days of waiting, Old Man Weather finally had to give in, thus allowing the baseball team an opportunity for a workout. Under the trained eye of Coach Bernard MacKenzie, the team began to take shape. The infield was rounded out, smoothed, and polished. Soon the outfield looked very promising. Before long the team was well-organized and ready to play. The first game was with Bar Harbor, and the Indians won it easily. The Indians continued through the season, displaying fine performances each time they played. The number one hurler was Don "Sparky" Tait, who put on a dazzling display of accuracy and change of pace.

After completing the regular season with a record of six wins against two losses, the team went on to play off with Stearns High School of Millinocket in the quarter-final round of the Eastern Maine title at the University of Maine. The Braves entered this round with an undefeated record in P. V. C. games. Stearns won this play-off game, but the record of the Indians will speak for itself as to just how good the team was. After a wonderful season with a 6-3 record, the ball club hung up their spikes. Seniors on the team were Bob Beek, Roger Cyr, Ken Parady, Chellis Smith, Dan Webster, and Frank Sirois.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL 1951

The softball team of 1951 concluded a successful season with only three losses out of nine games played, losing to Brewer, Ellsworth, and Bucksport. With a squad of twenty-one girls, Coach Blasenak built a powerful team, which gave opponents keen competition at all times and which showed great sportsmanship throughout the season.

Even though the team lost four players at graduation last year, it should come back this coming season just as powerful as before, because of the many girls who show great interest and possibilities in softball.

Watch for the 1952 season!

The team wishes to express its appreciation to Coach Blasenak, who spent so much time and effort in coaching the softball team.

CROSS COUNTRY

Last fall the cross country team, under the able coaching of Ray Gove, had a successful season, winning three and losing three races during the regular season and finishing fourth in the regional meet. As the season closed, the team moved up into fourth place in the State of Maine Championship race, which Old Town has won three times in the last six years.

The leaders of the squad this year included Ralph Thomas, Robert Gastia, and Captain Charlie Simon. Thomas, a sophomore, is following in the footsteps of his brother Jack, who won many races and set several records while in Old Town High School a few years ago.

MAJORETTES

Our group of majorettes began their usual routine practice at the opening of school in September. The girls have practiced every Monday and Thursday throughout the year, with extra practices for special occasions.

During the year the girls, in their neat green and white uniforms, have performed at football games, basketball games, and other outside activities. The majorettes have been very faithful to the Old Town basketball team, supporting the Indians all the way through the Eastern Maine tournament, and on to the Boston Garden for the New England tournament.

The majorettes are now organizing new routines for the Music Festival in May.

To Mr. Frank Grant, our coach, Mr. Leo Thayer, our band leader, and Mr. John Abbott, our principal, all of whom deserve a great deal of credit in making our performances possible, here is a big thank you from the majorettes.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Members from the senior, junior, and sophomore classes formed intramural teams and enjoyed a worthwhile season of girls' basketball. Practices were held twice a week after school, both at the Y.M.C.A. and at the Helen Hunt Gym.

At the beginning of the season representatives attended the Basketball Clinic at the University of Maine, to receive an interpretation of rule changes and watch a practice game.

During the season a special practice session was held at the gym with a team from Bangor. Gail Bell was high scorer that day for Old Town.

Acting as student managers for the season were the following: senior manager, Jessie Sargent; junior managers, Sharon Leavitt, Virginia Lavoie and Eleanor Leavitt; sophomore manager, Carol May Beaulieu. Ellen Colson and Marilyn Moore were appointed intramural captains.

All of the girls wish to express their sincere appreciation to their coach, Miss Mollison, for her helpfulness in promoting the success of girls' basketball this year.

LAUGHTER

Dick Martin pulled his car to a stop at a toll bridge.

"Fifty cents," called the gateman.

"Sold," Dickie replied.

Mrs. Foulin: Do you serve crabs here?

Waiter: We serve anyone; sit down.

Doctor: I'd like to have a quart of blood for a transfusion. Can you give it?

Robert Taylor: I can only give you a pint. I gotta shave tomorrow.

Mr. Viola (to C. Cox): When do you think the leaves begin to turn?

Charlie Cox: The day before exams.

Mr. Spearin (to Leonard Smith): Why don't you answer me?

Leonard Smith: I did. I shook my head.

Mr. Spearin: Well, you didn't expect me to hear it rattle way up here, did you?

Fred Bagley: Do you know who had the smallest radio and sending station ever made?

Red Bagley: No, who?

Fred Bagley: Paul Revere, he broadcasted from one plug.

Charlie Pettis: Let's cut English today.

Arnold Pelletier: Can't. I need the sleep.

"TIME ON MY HANDS"

Dear "Charmaine,"

Please "Tell Me Why" you won't meet me "Down Yonder" in the "Garden in the Rain" under "The Little White Cloud That Cried."

"If" you will meet me and "Give Me A Little Kiss" I'll "Always" remember you "Tenderly." "Unless" you say those "Three Little Words," "I Love You," I'll "Cry."

Will it be a "Sin" to tell you that "I've Got You Under My Skin" and that there is "Stardust" in my eyes when I look at you?

You know that I don't love "Patricia" and that "I Never See Maggie Alone" so why do you think that I'm telling a "Little White Lie" when I say that you're my "Baby Doll"?

It is "Because of You" that there are "Tears On My Pillow" every morning.

What is "The Thing" that makes me love you with my whole "Body and Soul" and makes you "Unforgettable" to me?

Well, "Now Is the Hour" when I must leave, so I'll just say "So Long" "Till We Meet Again."

"Your Sweetheart,"
"Joe"

"Old Town Canoes"

Swift and steady and easy to handle

"Old Town Canoes" are patterned after actual Indian models. They are sturdy and fast and remarkably light in weight. Perfectly balanced too—they handle with the utmost ease. If you want the finest of fine canoes, get an "Old Town." Exceedingly low in price. The "Old Town" catalog gives detailed information about all models, including square stern canoes, sailing canoes, dinghies, etc.
